

81 Men and Women Graduate from DOCCS Training Academy
October 7, 2014

On Friday October 3, 2014 81 men and women graduated from the correction's academy ready to become corrections officers around the state. The sixth ceremony of the year was held at the training academy in Albany as friends, family and fellow DOCCS staff looked on. Joseph Bellnier, the Deputy Commissioner for Correctional Facilities, delivered the keynote address. Several class members received special awards in a variety of areas including; physical performance, firearms proficiency, leadership and academic achievements. There will be five more graduating classes between October and January 2015.
