

Harlem Re-Entry Court Graduation
April 3, 2014

On Thursday, March 27, 2014, 38 parolees received certificates of completion from the Harlem Re-Entry Court. The Harlem Re-Entry Court is a result of a positive collaboration between the Harlem Community Justice Center and DOCCS. Its mission is to assist inmates in making the transition from prison life back to the community successful, preventing recidivism, and providing access to crucial services. The case managers, parole officers and administrative law judges work closely together to monitor a parolee's success and compliance with their community supervision and court orders. The staff assigned from the Manhattan/Staten Island Region are: Bureau Chief Tennyson, Senior Parole Officer Delgado, Parole Officer Morro, Parole Officer Dungey, Parole Officer Harrison, and Parole Officer Nwakama.
