

Mercy College to Feature Award Winning Film:
"The University of Sing Sing"
UPDATED: March 31, 2014

On March 31, 2014 at 6:00pm, Sing Sing Correctional Facility Superintendent Michael Capra will sit on a panel to discuss the role of higher education at Sing Sing. Superintendent Capra has over 31 years of experience in the field of Corrections and law enforcement.

Mercy College is offering free admission to the latest documentary screening of the award winning film, "The University of Sing Sing," which gives a rare glimpse into the "prison world" where opportunities for growth are improving. Hudson Link is a not-for-profit organization that provides a college education, life skills and re-entry support to incarcerated men and women to help them make a positive impact on their own lives, their families and communities. Following the screening, the panel will take part in a facilitated discussion about the topic at hand.

Event Details:

When: Monday March 31, 2014

Time: 6:00 pm

Where: Rotunda, Mercy Hall at Mercy College

What: Screening of Hudson's Link's new documentary followed by a discussion with experts in field: Supt. Capra of Sing Sing C.F, Sean Pica, Executive Director of Hudson Link, Jo Ann Skousen Teacher at Mercy College and Sing Sing C.F., and Tim Skousen, Director of "The University of Sing Sing."

Free Admission