

Superintendent's Excellence Award: Livingston Correctional Facility
January 15, 2014

At a recent Superintendent's Association meeting, the value of recognizing employees for the outstanding work was discussed. While there are many who go above and beyond the necessary job performance, there are those who shine above the rest. In response to the discussion, the Superintendent's Excellence Award was established and a coin was designed and purchased for presentation to selected staff.

Lisa Clinton, Recreation Program Leader II at Livingston Correctional Facility (Livingston County) was selected by Superintendent Michelle Artus to be the first recipient of this prestigious award.

Superintendent Michelle Artus notes that "Steadfast and unyielding, Ms. Clinton is an innovator who has spearheaded activities that enhance employee morale and raises money for worthy causes within the community. Always willing to give of her self on the job as well as her personal time; she is an asset to the facility as a friend, supervisor and colleague. WELL DONE MS. CLINTON!"
