

Livingston Correctional Facility Hosts “Jazz Behind Bars”

Livingston Correctional Facility recently hosted musician Barbara Levy Daniels to perform her latest project, “Jazz Behind Bars”. Fortunately, Barbara received an unsolicited foundation grant in late 2016 to continue the project, which has been a highlight of her musical career. Barbara insists that the inmates who attend these concerts are the best audiences she has ever performed for. For her most recent performance, Livingston packed the gymnasium with 175 inmates to watch the concert.

