

DOCCS Celebrates Black History Month

DOCCS Central Office recently held its annual Black History Month celebration at the Albany Training Academy. This year's national theme "African Americans in Times of War" was the focus of remarks from Acting Commissioner Anthony J. Annucci and Keynote speaker Bronx Parole Region Regional Director Rodney young. The event's Mistress of Ceremonies was Dawn Butler, Corrections Facility Operations Specialist Sexual Abuse Prevention Education. Deputy Commissioner Osbourne McKay also spoke at the event.

Nicole Hamilton, Parole Officer Executive Clemency, was chosen to read Governor Andrew M. Cuomo's Black History Month proclamation.
