

Livingston Correctional Facility's Senior Librarian, A. Jones, held a Book Showdown in which 5 Inmate teams and 1 Staff team came to compete against each other answering questions about three books that were read for the competition. Those books were Catching Fire, by Suzanne Collins, The Outsiders, by S.E. Hinton, and Al Capone Does My Shirts, by Gennifer Choldenko. Each and every round had close scoring which ended up crowning a new championship team this year! The gym was packed with 385 Inmates. Livingston really enjoys this friendly competition and can't wait till the next one!
