

Corrections and Community Supervision

Riverview and Ogdensburg Correctional Facilities Support Local Communities for the Holidays

The Make A Difference Day (MADD) Committees at Riverview and Ogdensburg Correctional Facilities worked together this holiday season to support two causes that benefit the local community. The Committee collected funds and pajamas for donation to the PJs 4 Xmas organization, a group founded by two high school students that now serves all of St. Lawrence County. Each year at Christmas, the organization distributes pajamas to local children in need, supplying over 900 pajamas county-wide this year. The MADD Committees also jointly supported a hot Christmas dinner that feeds hundreds each year. The community feared that the dinner would not be possible after the Amvets organization, which typically coordinates the dinner, was unable to do so this year. Thankfully, with help from Riverview and Ogdensburg staff to offset the cost of the dinner, the local Salvation Army was able to step in and provide the annual Christmas meal to hundreds of locals in need.
