Utica woman arrested for allegedly bringing drugs to prison

By WKTV News
Story Created: Sep 21, 2014 at 8:38 PM EST
Story Updated: Sep 21, 2014 at 8:42 PM EST

Utica, N.Y. (WKTV) - A Utica woman is facing charges after authorities say she tried to bring drugs to an inmate at the Oneida County Jail.

Oneida County Sheriff's officials say 51-year-old Nancy Lumbrazo was arrested Saturday, just after visiting an inmate.

Lumbrazo is charged with promoting prison contraband and criminal possession of a controlled substance.

She's being held in the Oneida County jail herself now... in lieu of $10, 000 cash bail.