

Governor Cuomo Proclaims February as Black History Month While Announcing Exhibit
February 7, 2014

Governor Andrew M. Cuomo has proclaimed the month of February, 2014 as Black History Month and announced the opening of an exhibit at the State Capitol. This year's national theme is "Civil Rights in America," highlighting an important milestone in the movement to achieve true equality for all people in the United States. We thank the members of our agency and our community for their contributions. Acting Commissioner Anthony J. Annucci and The Department of Corrections and Community Supervision has chosen to officially celebrate Black History Month with a guest speaker followed by a reception.