

San Juan Batista Day at Watertown Correctional Facility
July 24, 2014

Dr. Timothy Lagoy, delivers his speech during the San Juan Batista Day Festival at Watertown C.F.

Staff members and members of the inmate population celebrated San Juan Batista Day at Watertown Correctional Facility (Jefferson County) by listening to a speech on the historical evolution of the world. Dr. Timothy Lagoy, Professor of History at Jefferson County Community College, focused his talk on the impact of various cultures from one area of the world to another. The event also included a barbeque lunch and Latin music. San Bautista Day is a scheduled Heritage Day event sponsored and funded by the United Latin Organization (ULO).
