

Coxsackie Correctional Facility Staff Makes A Difference With Toys
March 24, 2015

The Make a Difference Day Committee from the Coxsackie Correctional Facility recently joined doctors from Columbia Memorial Pediatrics in Catskill to donate teddy bears and games for young patients. The committee from the correctional facility is made up of employees who raise money throughout the year and make donations to local non-profits and charities. Their mission is to generate goodwill within the community. The toys and teddy bears will be given to patients at the Catskill offices of Columbia Memorial Pediatrics, located inside of Columbia Memorial Health's (CMHs) Greene Medical Arts Center in Catskill. CMH also has pediatrics offices in Hudson.
